

How many instruments
can you trade –
profitably?

... and know for certain which trades are best for your strategy?

Technical Forecasts Limited

Imagine being able to increase the number of instruments you trade (on a daily or weekly basis) to hundreds, or even thousands, whilst keeping informed of the best (and worst) performing instruments, according to your own trading strategy and using unique market indicators which are only available to a select few traders.

Imagine being able to develop your own trading strategy, with statistically-valid back-test results.

On top of this, imagine being able to forecast what is likely to happen to each price over the next few weeks, incorporating forecasts into your overall trading strategy....

Stop imagining. It's here.

Technical Forecasts Ltd has combined its well-respected forecasting methodologies and statistical data modelling expertise to produce LEAPFROG, which will provide you with all this and much more.
